REFERENCE D - CRSV CHECKLIST

Considerations

- ☑ Ensure gender balance in the composition of the UN-ET.
- ☑ Ensure consultation with and inclusion of women and gender experts, as well as identified civilian protection advisors.
- ☑ Provide data to Human Rights focal points so they can conduct any interviews.
- ☑ Be a 'Role Model' (good conduct and discipline, representation of female military peacekeepers and respecting local women).
- ☑ Be approachable.
- ☑ Data that can prevent further human rights violations/CRSV must be reported immediately.
- ☑ Provide survivor with contact information for medical, psycho/social, and legal support available.
- ☑ Always assume sexual violence has taken place.
- ☑ DO NO HARM.

DO

- ☑ Ensure the survivor gives consent to speaking with you, but you are not to ask about the incident(s) of CRSV. This takes a trained specialist to avoid re-traumatizing the survivor.
- ☑ Respect and protect the dignity and confidentiality of the survivor, try to create an environment where they feel safe.
- ☑ Explain to the survivor who you are, what you are doing, and with their consent, what you will do with the information.
- ☑ DO accurate reporting

DO NOT

- ☒ DO NOT investigate the incident or ask about it directly (this will be done by the authorised officials; such as designated HROs, CPAs, WPAs etc.).
- ☒ DO NOT follow up (it is the responsibility of human rights officers, CPAs and the WPAs).
- ☒ DO NOT inform local authorities.

- ☒ DO NOT disclose personal information on the survivor in reports (maintain confidentiality and anonymity).

DO NOT COLLECT the following information:

- ☒ Name of the survivor(s).
- ☒ Address of the survivor(s).
- ☒ Photographs of the survivor(s).
- ☒ Documents of local health structures.
- ☒ Name of the aggressor.
- ☒ Name of your sources if informed consent was not granted.
- ☒ Data that may be linked back to an individual or group of individuals.
