Training of Trainers Course on Addressing Misinformation, Disinformation, Malinformation, and Hate Speech (MDMH) Threats for the UN Military and Police Units in the UN Peace Operations

Aim and Objectives:

The course aims to enhance the capacity of UN Member States to deliver the mandatory Reinforcement Training Package on Addressing Misinformation, Disinformation, Malinformation, and Hate Speech (MDMH) threats for UN Military and Police Units preparing for deployment in UN Peace Operations. Furthermore, the program is designed to strengthen participants' training delivery skills, providing opportunities for direct engagement with trainers from the Integrated Training Service (ITS) and representatives from other UN Member States .

Call for Nominations: Deadline for the registration to be submitted – 15 January 2025

Target Audience:

Participants should hold the rank of Captain to Lieutenant Colonel (or equivalent) and have relevant experience in training, as well as in identifying and assessing MDMH threats at the tactical level. Prior experience in strategic communication and UN peacekeeping operations is highly desirable.
