Acknowledgements

The OPLOG RTP has been developed as a collaborative effort between the Integrated Training Service (ITS) and Department of Operational Support (DOS), and the wider UN system, to reflect the view of the United Nations as a whole. The project was conceived by Kristy Hudson (formerly of ITS), and Daniel Ray McNeil as an independent consultant.

The project was managed by Richyson Kofi Debrah of ITS. ITS would like to thank the subject matter experts from across the UN organisation, Field Missions and Member States who provided input and feedback during the drafting process, and the numerous training personnel from field missions who participated in the development workshops.

ITS was guided by the substantive expertise within DPO, DOS, and UN field missions. Content focal points and subject matter experts across the UN have made important contributions to ensure the content of the training material was created with significant developments in UN peacekeeping logistics. ITS has also been informed by the recommendations of training delivery partners, particularly Peacekeeping Training Institutes (PKTIs) of Member States. The package would not have been possible without the commitment, active participation, and willingness of individuals to share their knowledge and time.

Contact person
For any proposal of update or improvement of this package, or any questions about these training materials, please contact the project leader Richyson Kofi Debrah (richyson.debrah@un.org) or write to peacekeeping-training@un.org.

Any relevant update will be posted and explained on the Peacekeeping Resource Hub website (http://research.un.org/en/peacekeeping-community). Instructors are encouraged to check the site regularly.

A comprehensive list of individuals who actively participated in consultations is contained as an annex.
